

HOLDUP BRIGHAM STREET PHARMACY

Robber Pretends to Be in Pain and Disperses Clerk's Suspicions.

SUDDENLY DRAWS A GUN
COWS EMPLOYEES, BUT GETS ONLY SMALL SUM.

Rushing into the Brigham-street pharmacy, E. and South Temple streets, at 10:29 o'clock last night, with arms wrapped about his stomach, as though suffering intense pain, a young highwayman suddenly changed his pose, and with lightning speed pointed a revolver in the face of E. H. Nielden, prescription clerk, ordering him to throw up his hands.

The clerk at the soda fountain, L. H. Foulger, attempted to dash out of the pharmacy, but the holdup man quickly stopped him and after explaining that he was taking his chances, walked to the soda fountain cash register and tried to open the till.

He failed to open at first. Then he brought his fist down on all the keys and ripped the cash drawer open. Finding that it contained but a few dollars, he began to show signs of nervousness, and almost stumbled to the floor as he dashed to the cash register near the prescription cabinet. That too, offered trouble, but he soon managed to force it open.

He tried to induce the prescription clerk to tell where the rest of the money could be found. At this juncture the excitement which had been noticeable all along overcame him and his voice dwindled down into a stuttering and nearly unintelligible expression.

With but $10 as his loot he ordered the prescription clerk and soda fountain attendant to walk to the rear of the pharmacy, when he ran out of the door and disappeared.

Describes the Robber.

Nielden, the prescription clerk, as near as he can remember, says that the holdup was slight of build, about 5 feet 4 inches in height, wearing a dark suit, a hat, a silk muffler about his throat and a gray suit of clothes. He had no overcoat. The clerk believes that he had been suffering from cold, as his fingers fumbled the keys of the cash register and the change.

When the police had been notified, practically in the heart of the city, Lieutenant Richard Shannon detailed a squad of nine patrolmen to search for the robber. The night squad was given a description as it went on duty.

Because of the description coincide with the attire worn by a young man who has been seen about town for the past two or three days, the policemen are almost certain that they will have him rounded up in the city jail before the close of the day.

In the search for the robber, patrolmen, some of whom were in plain clothes, have been known to have been frequented of recent date by a gang whose movements have aroused suspicion. The police are convinced that the holdups are under the direction of a clever gang of thieves who have come into Salt Lake of recent date.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar proof vault of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32 up Main street, $2.00 per year and upwards.

VETERANS' SONS ELECT

P. Edward Connor Camp, Number 1, Again Honor Their Present Commander.

Officers were elected last night by P. Edward Connor camp No. 1, Sons of Veterans, and the secretary of the camp was authorized to invite the Daughters of Veterans to install their officers at the same meeting, to be held the first Friday in January. The Sons of Veterans have also applied for a charter for ladies' auxiliary and, in case the charter and rituals reach Salt Lake in time, the installation of officers of the new auxiliary will also be held at the same time. P. E. Connor, re-elected commander last night, the other officers being Harry E. Corser, senior vice commander; W. R. Graham, junior vice commander, and J. G. Cecil, E. M. Qualtrough and S. W. Patterson, members of the camp council.

HEAR W. C. T. U. REPORTS

Meeting Listens to Extracts From Papers Read at the National Convention.

Reports on the national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union were presented to the Salt Lake members of the union by Mrs. E. E. Shepard and Mrs. Tom D. Pitt, the Utah delegates to the convention, at a reception given to Mrs. Shepard and Mrs. Pitt at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Silver last night.

In outlining the work of the convention held at Omaha last month, Mrs. Shepard spoke of the increasing strength and influence of the organization, which was placing it in the front rank among the influential women's organizations of the world.

Mrs. Pitt spoke briefly on the work of the mercy department of the union, in which she is particularly interested. The Rev. C. R. Neal, pastor of the First Christian church, spoke of the growth of the union in numbers and influence.

"Royal" State Bread Depot Open 3 to 5 p. m. daily. Entrance on Third South. Good bread very cheap.

Plumes cleaned and curled. College Millinery Parlors, 201 Tribune bldg.

The Safest Way

The safest way to invest money is to deposit it with a sound financial institution paying liberal rates of interest where its safety is assured beyond question. This company issues Secured Certificates in denominations of $100 or more, guaranteed by its Capital and Surplus of $400,000.00 and secured by First Mortgages on improved real estate located in Salt Lake City. Interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

Salt Lake Security & Trust Company
32 Up, Main Street
Capital ..... $300,000.00
Surplus ..... $100,000.00

Fifteen Hundred of Salt Lake's Society People Grace Annual Charity Ball, Making It a Tremendous Success

MRS. J. A. REEVES

A member of the ticket committee for the annual charity ball.

With sweet charity as the underlying motive, about fifteen hundred of Salt Lake's wealthiest patrons and patronesses graced the annual charity ball at the Odeon hall last night, assuring a financial success for the annual venture, as well as a tremendous social triumph.

Society in ultra-gay bedizenment spent hours in fullest enjoyment of an affair for which the fair sex had spent weeks of preparation. Gowns of costly fabric and richest hue draped the forms of Utah's fairest women, diadems in waving coils or encircling fair throats sparkled a radiance across an ever-hanging vista of color, iridescent lights cast a soft glow from the great dome upon a moving throng, while the strains of sweet music lulled the dancers in the waltz or quickened them in the two-step—this was the spectacle of the charity ball at its height.

This picture, with a background of stars and stripes, festoons of greens and drapings of color, set here and there with clusters of roses showed the artist's touch. The gayest throng that ever attended a charity ball made that affair a wholesome success last night. Coming from all directions through the snow, autos and cabs and other vehicles brought hundreds to the door of the great hall. With the arch of lights set against a background of windowed color, it presented a pretty sight. The chill of winter dissipated in the warmth of the hall, and inside the very limit of enjoyment was reached.

Cause Not Forgotten.

To one who passed from the garish light of the street into the charming circle of merry-makers, the thought that these people came together to do homage to charity seemed to rise far above the thought that they considered the affair a medium for the display of costly garments, and to compete for highest honors in dress. The great heart of humanity beat a rhythmic accompaniment to the waltz.

Decorating—Mrs. Henry Stimson, Mrs. E. M. Allison, Jr., Mrs. Russell G. Schulder, Miss Marie Bancroft, Mrs. W. P. Kiser, Mrs. M. B. Whitney.

Tables—Mrs. C. R. Peersall, Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Mrs. A. J. Gorham, Mrs. R. C. Gemmell, Mrs. C. H. McMahon, Mrs. F. L. Oswald, Miss Spalding, Mrs. J. F. Cowan, Mrs. F. W. Francis, Mrs. O. W. Ott, Mrs. R. E. McConaughy, Miss Fox, Mrs. A. S. Bower, Mrs. F. A. Starkweather.

Floor managers—George Y. Wallace, Jr., Harry Shearman, Robert J. Glendinning and George Lawrence.

Ticket selling—Miss Hague.

Tickets—Mrs. Warren Benjamin, and Mrs. J. A. Reeves.

Advertising—Mrs. Don R. Coray and Mrs. F. A. Starkweather.

A happy feature of the charity ball was the punch table on the ballroom floor, just out of the circle of dancers. The table was decorated with bowls of viands and was presided over by Mrs. W. P. Kiser, who was assisted by Mrs. L. D. Gordon, Miss Lena Hague, Miss McCutcheon, Miss Hazel Oswald, and Mrs. J. A. Reeves.

Among the many handsome gowns worn on the occasion were noted the following: Mrs. William C. Jennings—Black evening gown trimmed in white lace and silver jewelry.

Mrs. Windsor V. Rice—Blue satin evening gown trimmed in Maltese lace with diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Morris L. Ritchie—Black lace and white gown with white yoke over silver.

Mrs. Clifford R. Peersall—Evening gown of yellow satin. Benjamin—Soft white gown trimmed in princess lace and silver jewelry.

Mrs. J. A. Reeves—Costume of white messaline satin, picture hat with white plumes and pink roses.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald—Black chintilly lace over white silk trimmed in Maltese lace.

Aside from the decorations about the ballroom, the lower rooms of the building were adorned with cut flowers, and in the supper room scores of tables were set for the dancers, and here, too, the women who arranged the affair lavished roses, carnations and chrysanthemums.

The great floor was filled with dancers, and above, in the balcony, hundreds of persons were content to catch without participating. The orchestra, enlarged for the occasion, kept the interest of dancers at its height, and yet there was diversion a-plenty for those who did not dance. Below the ladies had been thought of in time, and no detail was lacking in any of the preparations.

Those who enjoyed the affair, but who had little to do with its preparation, were loud in their praise of the fair managers. To the executive committee is due a great deal of credit, and they in turn shower praise and commendation upon all of the ladies who served upon other committees right up to the hour of the close of the affair last night.

The grand march was started promptly at 9:30 o'clock, led by Governor William Spry and Mrs. William C. Jennings, president of St. Mark's hospital association, under whose auspices the Charity ball was held. Following them were Robert J. Glendinning and Mrs.

Windsor V. Rice, Bishop Franklin S. Spalding and Mrs. William Spry, George Y. Wallace and Miss Spalding, and then came the nurses from St. Mark's training school, headed by their superintendents, Miss Lees and Miss McClary.

Beyond came a representation of wealth and society leadership, the fashionable set of Salt Lake, paying homage to the cause of charity.

The Grand March.

The grand march brought forth a procession of men and women who have been prominent in the social life of the city—men who are linked with the growth and development of the city; women who have been prominent in the life of the city, and younger men and women who are carving their way into the new west and building fortunes for themselves.

Following the grand march came the program of dances, and through the evening a whirling, gliding throng forgot all cares and entered into the spirit of the occasion with unbounded enthusiasm. For the charity ball comes only once a year.

When the gay crowd began to arrive, they met at the door Mrs. Warren Benjamin and Mrs. J. A. Reeves, who handled hundreds of tickets. Flanking both sides of the entrance and lining the stairs, as well as moving about among the growing throng, was the reception committee, composed of Bishop Franklin S. Spalding and Miss Spalding, Mrs. William C. Jennings, Mrs. George Y. Wallace, Mrs. Morris L. Ritchie, Mrs. Clifford R. Peersall, Mrs. William Igleheart, Mrs. Samuel Paul, Mrs. Windsor V. Rice, Mrs. F. L. Oswald and Miss Howat.

The other committees which did yeoman service, and to whose efforts, collectively and individually, much of the success of the ball is due, were as follows:

Supper committee—Mrs. Edwin Kimball, Mrs. J. E. Gallagher, Mrs. G. G. Hall, Mrs. J. E. Silver, Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Mrs. C. R. Peersall, Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Mrs. F. L. Oswald, Mrs. J. F. Cowan, Mrs. F. W. Francis, Mrs. O. W. Ott, Mrs. R. E. McConaughy, Miss Fox, Mrs. A. S. Bower, Mrs. F. A. Starkweather.

Decorating—Mrs. Henry Stimson, Mrs. E. M. Allison, Jr., Mrs. Russell G. Schulder, Miss Marie Bancroft, Mrs. W. P. Kiser, Mrs. M. B. Whitney.

Tables—Mrs. C. R. Peersall, Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Mrs. A. J. Gorham, Mrs. R. C. Gemmell, Mrs. C. H. McMahon, Mrs. F. L. Oswald, Miss Spalding, Mrs. J. F. Cowan, Mrs. F. W. Francis, Mrs. O. W. Ott, Mrs. R. E. McConaughy, Miss Fox, Mrs. A. S. Bower, Mrs. F. A. Starkweather.

Floor managers—George Y. Wallace, Jr., Harry Shearman, Robert J. Glendinning and George Lawrence.

Ticket selling—Miss Hague.

Tickets—Mrs. Warren Benjamin, and Mrs. J. A. Reeves.

Advertising—Mrs. Don R. Coray and Mrs. F. A. Starkweather.

A happy feature of the charity ball was the punch table on the ballroom floor, just out of the circle of dancers. The table was decorated with bowls of viands and was presided over by Mrs. W. P. Kiser, who was assisted by Mrs. L. D. Gordon, Miss Lena Hague, Miss McCutcheon, Miss Hazel Oswald, and Mrs. J. A. Reeves.

Among the many handsome gowns worn on the occasion were noted the following: Mrs. William C. Jennings—Black evening gown trimmed in white lace and silver jewelry.

Mrs. Windsor V. Rice—Blue satin evening gown trimmed in Maltese lace with diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Morris L. Ritchie—Black lace and white gown with white yoke over silver.

Mrs. Clifford R. Peersall—Evening gown of yellow satin. Benjamin—Soft white gown trimmed in princess lace and silver jewelry.

Mrs. J. A. Reeves—Costume of white messaline satin, picture hat with white plumes and pink roses.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald—Black chintilly lace over white silk trimmed in Maltese lace.

Aside from the decorations about the ballroom, the lower rooms of the building were adorned with cut flowers, and in the supper room scores of tables were set for the dancers, and here, too, the women who arranged the affair lavished roses, carnations and chrysanthemums.

The great floor was filled with dancers, and above, in the balcony, hundreds of persons were content to catch without participating. The orchestra, enlarged for the occasion, kept the interest of dancers at its height, and yet there was diversion a-plenty for those who did not dance. Below the ladies had been thought of in time, and no detail was lacking in any of the preparations.

Those who enjoyed the affair, but who had little to do with its preparation, were loud in their praise of the fair managers. To the executive committee is due a great deal of credit, and they in turn shower praise and commendation upon all of the ladies who served upon other committees right up to the hour of the close of the affair last night.

The grand march was started promptly at 9:30 o'clock, led by Governor William Spry and Mrs. William C. Jennings, president of St. Mark's hospital association, under whose auspices the Charity ball was held. Following them were Robert J. Glendinning and Mrs.

Mrs. J. A. Reeves—Costume of white messaline satin, picture hat with white plumes and pink roses.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald—Black chintilly lace over white silk trimmed in Maltese lace.

Aside from the decorations about the ballroom, the lower rooms of the building were adorned with cut flowers, and in the supper room scores of tables were set for the dancers, and here, too, the women who arranged the affair lavished roses, carnations and chrysanthemums.

The great floor was filled with dancers, and above, in the balcony, hundreds of persons were content to catch without participating. The orchestra, enlarged for the occasion, kept the interest of dancers at its height, and yet there was diversion a-plenty for those who did not dance. Below the ladies had been thought of in time, and no detail was lacking in any of the preparations.

Those who enjoyed the affair, but who had little to do with its preparation, were loud in their praise of the fair managers. To the executive committee is due a great deal of credit, and they in turn shower praise and commendation upon all of the ladies who served upon other committees right up to the hour of the close of the affair last night.

The grand march was started promptly at 9:30 o'clock, led by Governor William Spry and Mrs. William C. Jennings, president of St. Mark's hospital association, under whose auspices the Charity ball was held. Following them were Robert J. Glendinning and Mrs.

Mrs. J. A. Reeves—Costume of white messaline satin, picture hat with white plumes and pink roses.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald—Black chintilly lace over white silk trimmed in Maltese lace.

Aside from the decorations about the ballroom, the lower rooms of the building were adorned with cut flowers, and in the supper room scores of tables were set for the dancers, and here, too, the women who arranged the affair lavished roses, carnations and chrysanthemums.

The great floor was filled with dancers, and above, in the balcony, hundreds of persons were content to catch without participating. The orchestra, enlarged for the occasion, kept the interest of dancers at its height, and yet there was diversion a-plenty for those who did not dance. Below the ladies had been thought of in time, and no detail was lacking in any of the preparations.

Those who enjoyed the affair, but who had little to do with its preparation, were loud in their praise of the fair managers. To the executive committee is due a great deal of credit, and they in turn shower praise and commendation upon all of the ladies who served upon other committees right up to the hour of the close of the affair last night.

The grand march was started promptly at 9:30 o'clock, led by Governor William Spry and Mrs. William C. Jennings, president of St. Mark's hospital association, under whose auspices the Charity ball was held. Following them were Robert J. Glendinning and Mrs.

Mrs. J. A. Reeves—Costume of white messaline satin, picture hat with white plumes and pink roses.

Mrs. F. L. Oswald—Black chintilly lace over white silk trimmed in Maltese lace.

MRS. HENRY STIMSON.
Chairman of the committee on decorations for the annual charity ball.

ermine furs and large hat with white plumes.
Mrs. William McGrath—Ecrú silk tissue gown with ornaments of jet.

Mrs. E. M. Allison, Jr.—Black hand embroidered gown of chiffon cloth, large black picture hat with lavender ostrich feathers.

Miss Spalding—Evening costume of pale blue silk and lace.
Miss Colburne—White lace evening gown.

Mrs. David Keith—Handsome white satin evening gown trimmed in pearls, with pearl necklace.

Mrs. Edward S. Ferry—Evening gown of Irish green crepe with trimmings of jet.

Mrs. John C. Cutler—Imported gown of blue messaline with overdress of black chiffon heavily embroidered in gold passementerie.

Miss Hazel Cutler—Pink chiffon over pink silk.
Mrs. Louis D. Gordon—Costume of pale blue crepe de chine.

Mrs. E. Bonnemort—Imported gown, hand embroidered with white overdress, with emerald hat and plumes.

Mrs. Joseph Young—Brown spangled net, black picture hat and Battenberg lace cape.

Mrs. William C. Alexander—Handsome white lace evening gown.
Mrs. William Spry—Black net over satin with jet trimmings.

Mrs. John C. Cutler, Jr.—Pearl colored liberty satin over tulle, trimmed in Valenciennes lace.

Mrs. P. S. Koch—Lavender cashmere de sole gown trimmed in cream lace.
Mrs. N. M. Hamilton—Costume of black velvet, with large black hat.

Mrs. L. Sheets—Evening gown of pale blue chiffon.
Mrs. E. A. Wall—Gown of white Irish lace, black picture hat and diamonds.

Mrs. Edna Dunn—White embroidered chiffon.
Miss Aline McMillan—Yellow embroidered chiffon.

Mrs. Joy De Camp—Red crepe evening gown over tulle.
Miss Baker—Pink chiffon over satin.

Miss Banks—White satin gown with pearl trimmings.
Mrs. T. S. Harlan—White satin evening gown with lace trimmings; with picture hat.

Miss Willard F. Snyder—White messaline gown with picture hat.
Mrs. J. H. Witbeck—Champagne messaline gown, trimmed in lace.

Mrs. B. O. Mecklenburg—Copper colored net over gray satin trimmed in lace, black picture hat with ostrich plumes.

Mrs. Kathryn Wall—Yellow satin gown trimmed with gold lace, black picture hat with yellow plumes.

Mrs. J. C. Rose—Pale blue silk and lace evening gown.
Mrs. Don R. Coray—Evening gown of white messaline.

Mrs. Faustler Dodge—Gown of pink brocade satin.
Mrs. James E. Jennings—Handsome black silk and net gown embroidered in jet, with large black and white hat.

Mrs. H. M. Dinwoodey—Imported evening gown of peach blow satin with lace overdress, with picture hat.

Mrs. W. A. Cavanaugh—Pink broadcloth gown, large pink hat with long white plumes.

Mrs. W. E. Fife—Blue crepe evening gown.
Mrs. R. W. Hill—Black crepe de chine gown with Venetian lace, black picture hat.

Mrs. Margaret Zane Wither—Pink chiffon and lace evening gown.
Mrs. Ledyard M. Bailey—Black chiffon velvet evening gown over cherry colored satin.

Mrs. Kenneth C. Kerr—Blue crepe evening gown.
Mrs. William Reid—White crepe gown with trimmings in silver.

Mrs. William D. Foster—White chiffon over tulle, with tulle and sleeves of real lace.
Miss Barbara Kimersley—White meteor crepe evening gown with lace yoke over silver.

Miss Afton Young—White crepe de chine gown with large white hat.
Mrs. E. E. Jenkins—Parisian gown of pink chiffon and Valenciennes lace combined with red messaline.

Mrs. J. A. Reeves—Mulberry satin evening gown with lace trimmings.
Mrs. J. J. Campbell—Evening gown of white satin with iridescent trimmings.

Mrs. Roscoe M. Broder—Apricot satin gown trimmed in sable with white Gainsborough hat.
Mrs. J. Keith—Black embroidered net robe and American beige roses.

Mrs. G. E. Webber—Gray satin dress with duchesse lace yoke and sleeves.
Mrs. John M. Bransford—Black and white silk with lace trimmings.

Mrs. George M. Bacon—Gown of dotted net and white lace.
Mrs. E. J. Chambers—Black lace and white.

Mrs. Karl A. Scheid—Pale blue satin and lace with black hat and white plume.
Mrs. Russell Woodruff—Black net embroidered in jet.

Mrs. J. C. Hooper—Jettied net over white satin.
Mrs. H. C. Hoffman—Black net over pale blue silk.

Mrs. H. E. Booth—Brocade chiffon with black picture hat.
Mrs. W. W. Armstrong—Evening gown of pale blue satin with black picture hat.

Mrs. Fred Hornung—Draped gown of light blue messaline.
Mrs. P. J. Ferguson—Black satin and jet.

Mrs. Howard S. Stone—Peacock blue messaline gown with hat to match.
Mrs. R. C. Gemmell—White satin gown with duchesse lace scarf.

Mrs. A. L. Hoppell—Blue velvet combined with satin.
Mrs. R. H. Officer—White satin evening gown and picture hat.

Mrs. Joel Nibley—Black net gown with scarf of gold lace.
Miss Hempstead—Pale blue chiffon and white lace with black hat.

Mrs. L. B. McCormick—Lavender satin with silver trimmings and violets.

Mrs. G. E. Stahl—Pearl gray satin with pearl passementerie and large hat.
Mrs. John T. White—Black net with jet over satin.

Mrs. J. M. Callow—White lace and chiffon robe.
Mrs. Isabella Pitt—Black velvet and satin with black and white hat.

Mrs. M. E. Lipman—Apricot meteor crepe evening gown with pearl trimmings.
Mrs. M. H. Walker—White embroidered silk evening gown with panels of Irish crochet lace.

Mrs. Lous Hague—French gown or blue chiffon over rose satin, trimmed in silver.
Mrs. F. R. Brown—White satin and lace evening gown.

Mrs. T. B. Beatty—Pale blue meteor crepe over satin.
Mrs. Hazel Spappington—Evening gown of black Mexican drawn work trimmed in jet; black picture hat with bouquet of deep red roses.

Mrs. T. J. Weyne—Black crepe de chine.
Mrs. S. D. Evans—Black satin gown trimmed in seal skin.

Mrs. A. C. Behle—Gown of pink crepe de chine with white lace yoke.
Miss Hazel Spappington—Pale blue gauze and silver evening gown.

Miss McGrath—Pink crepe de chine evening gown trimmed in silver lace.
Miss Carrie Spappington—Pink satin with gold trimmings.

Miss Mame Spappington—White chiffon over pink silk.
Miss Isabel Osborne—Yellow crepe de chine combined with blue.

Miss Baker Spappington—White silk gown with gold trimmings.
Miss Mildred McMillan—Yellow embroidered evening gown.

Miss Lucille Franke—Pale blue messaline embroidered in satin roses; yoke of gold lace.
Mrs. Loren Seby—White satin with gold trimmings.

Miss Elmer Stewart—Draped yellow gown over tulle.
Miss Edna Dunn—White embroidered chiffon.

Miss Aline McMillan—Yellow embroidered chiffon.
Miss Joy De Camp—Red crepe evening gown over tulle.

Miss Baker—Pink chiffon over satin.
Miss Banks—White satin gown with pearl trimmings.

Mrs. T. S. Harlan—White satin evening gown with lace trimmings; with picture hat.
Miss Willard F. Snyder—White messaline gown with picture hat.

Mrs. J. H. Witbeck—Champagne messaline gown, trimmed in lace.
Mrs. B. O. Mecklenburg—Copper colored net over gray satin trimmed in lace, black picture hat with ostrich plumes.

Mrs. Kathryn Wall—Yellow satin gown trimmed with gold lace, black picture hat with yellow plumes.
Mrs. J. C. Rose—Pale blue silk and lace evening gown.

Mrs. Don R. Coray—Evening gown of white messaline.
Mrs. Faustler Dodge—Gown of pink brocade satin.

Mrs. James E. Jennings—Handsome black silk and net gown embroidered in jet, with large black and white hat.
Mrs. H. M. Dinwoodey—Imported evening gown of peach blow satin with lace overdress, with picture hat.

Mrs. W. A. Cavanaugh—Pink broadcloth gown, large pink hat with long white plumes.
Mrs. W. E. Fife—Blue crepe evening gown.

Mrs. R. W. Hill—Black crepe de chine gown with Venetian lace, black picture hat.
Mrs. Margaret Zane Wither—Pink chiffon and lace evening gown.

Mrs. Ledyard M. Bailey—Black chiffon velvet evening gown over cherry colored satin.
Mrs. Kenneth C. Kerr—Blue crepe evening gown.

Mrs. William Reid—White crepe gown with trimmings in silver.
Mrs. William D. Foster—White chiffon over tulle, with tulle and sleeves of real lace.

Miss Barbara Kimersley—White meteor crepe evening gown with lace yoke over silver.
Miss Afton Young—White crepe de chine gown with large white hat.

Mrs. E. E. Jenkins—Parisian gown of pink chiffon and Valenciennes lace combined with red messaline.
Mrs. J. A. Reeves—Mulberry satin evening gown with lace trimmings.